TFT in Graduate Appointment Spree

Tuffin Ferraby Taylor (TFT) has appointed three new graduates, two in its Bristol office and one in the Birmingham team. The independent property and construction consultancy is also recruiting for a graduate for its Guildford office.

Laura Jones and Jack Holland have both been appointed as Graduate Building Surveyors in Bristol covering all aspects of building surveying including contract administration, dilapidations and building surveys. Laura studied Building Surveying and the Environment at Plymouth University passing with a first class degree. Jack studied Building Surveying at Reading University.

In Birmingham, Gavin Foxtan has joined the team as Graduate Building Surveyor having graduated from Northumbria University with a BSc (Hons) in Building Surveying and a Diploma in Project Management. Gavin is currently in the process of upgrading to a master degree in Project Management while working in technical the due diligence and project consultancy team.

Alan Pemberton, managing partner of TFT, comments: "TFT is committed to nurturing young talent. With our network of offices in England and Wales Laura, Jack and Gavin will benefit from working with a number of industry specialists, gaining valuable insight and experience of all the service lines offered to clients across the UK. Each graduate's enthusiasm and energy will be a great asset to both the regional teams and the firm as a whole."

TFT offers a wide range of services including: Dilapidations; Technical Due Diligence; Project Monitoring; Project Management; Sustainability. In addition, TFT Consult provides clients with a specialist management consultancy service.
